

Wetlands Management in Sarawak

By

Desmond Dick Cotter

Protected Areas and Biodiversity Conservation Unit Sarawak Forestry Corporation

Abstract

Wetlands play a very important role in terms of the benefits and values that they bring in. Over the years, the wetlands ecosystem in Sarawak has suffered losses due in part to land conversion and other forms of landuse. This paper highlights the various initiatives and actions taken by the state in protecting and managing these areas.